DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP

Doucment 7-201720 issued to Tamura.

3. Tamura discloses an electron beam lithography system (pg.14, parag. 22).

Tamura discloses the generation of an exposure map (pg.2, summary of the invention; pg. 14, parag. 21).

4. Tamura discloses said exposure map based on coordinates/positional relations (see pg.12, parag. 17-18).

5. Tamura discloses a proximity effect correction means (see pg.13, para. 20).

6. Tamura discloses a judging means for determining any overlap/straddling (pg. 12, para. 18).

7. As per claim 2, see figs. 6-7; pg. 17, parag. 29.

8. As per claim 3, Tamura discloses adding the area density of an overlap area to the pattern in question (pg. 18, parag.32-33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 4-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tamura and in view of US Pat No 4,692,579 issued to Saitou et al.

11. In regards to claims 4 and 10, Tamura teaches the claimed invention except for NxM memories.

12. However, Saitou teaches a conventional exposure map having N parts in the direction of width and M in the direction of height (col.4, 18-27).

13. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the teaching of Saitou into Tamura, since Saitou teaches improved time and accuracy (col.2, lines 30-40).

14. As per claims 5 and 7, Tamura teaches a bit map generated by a memory means (pg.14, para. 21). Tamura teaches a read-out means for constructing a new pattern density map from the memory data addressed to two different memories (pg 11-12, para. 15-16).

15. As per claim 6, Tamura discloses adding the area density of an overlap area to the pattern in question (pg. 18, parag.32-33).

16. Claims 8-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tamura and Saitou as applied to claim 4 above, and further in view of US Pat 3,921,135 issued to Komaru et al.

17. The obvious combination of Tamura and Saitou teaches the claimed invention except for selecting means.

18. However, Komaru teaches a memory system for dividing a larger area using NxM (see col.3, lines 19-45). Komaru, also, teaches the conventional selection of memories for retrieval of stored data (col.4, line 59-col.5, line 4).

19. It would have been obvious to an ordinary skilled artisan to incorporate the teachings of Komaru into Tamura, since Komaru teaches an efficient manner to decrease memory capacity without lowering quality (col.1, lines 30-34).

Response to Arguments

20. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

21. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. JP Document 60198432 issued to Konishi.

22. Konishi discloses an address generating means to select the address of memory (see abstract).
